Arcadia Publishing, 2009. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: Title: Allen: Author to present book with postcard history of Berkeley Author: Annalee Allen Publisher: Oakland Tribune Date: 5/30/09 The historic Hillside Club in Berkeley is the location for first-time author Wendy Markel's slide presentation on her book, "Berkeley," the latest in the Postcard History Series from Arcadia Publishing. The June 1 program gets under way at 7:30 p.m. at 2286 Cedar St. The 200 postcards represented in the book are almost exclusively from one East Bay collection that was generously lent to the author. They illustrate the hilly bayside landscape that appealed to settlers, the early years of Berkeley's development, and the formation and growth of the university. The book also contains images of landmark buildings lost to fire or to new development that provide glimpses of neighborhoods that have changed over time. A British citizen by birth, Markel moved to the United States with her parents in the early 1960s. Her interest in American history began while living outside Boston, when she and her brother traveled the East Coast exploring the likes of Jamestown, Philadelphia and other historic sites. She later moved west to California and continued her traveling ways, exploring the Gold Country, the ghost towns of Nevada and the settlements at Fort Ross. Markel attended Mills College, where she studied early childhood education and became a fan of Julia Morgan's architectural work on the campus. She recalls taking a course on the history of book binding and printing and thought it would be interesting to put together her own book someday. While working as a preschool teacher, Markel found herself becoming involved in local preservation issues in Berkeley and Oakland. She joined the advocacy organizations of both cities, and...
